

Year –End Report

- Net turnover for 2010 amounted to SEK 36.3 m (42.1). The decline is mostly attributable to vacancies. In the fourth quarter the turnover was SEK 9.2 m (6.6).
- The result after tax amounted to SEK 47.4 m (-1,067.9). The improved result is explained by value changes in the property portfolio during previous year and by composition gain. In the fourth quarter the result after tax amounted to SEK -5.7 m (-576.7).

The illiquid market is still making it difficult for surveyors in the assessments of real estate, but there is a distinct positive change during the fourth quarter.
- After the end of the period the Minister of Defence in Russia issued an order that the investment agreement regarding Moika /Glinky shall be amended, including the extension until December 31st 2014.

Description of Ruric AB

Business concept, overall goal and strategy

The company's business concept is to acquire, develop, let and manage real estate in St Petersburg, Russia with a focus on commercial premises of high class in attractive locations that thereby contribute positively to the business of the tenants.

The company has the goal of becoming a leading real estate company in the St Petersburg region within its segment.

The strategy is to manage properties in the central parts of St. Petersburg. In addition to that, Ruric shall acquire properties and carry out value creating add on investments to attractive terms. Through professional management and tenant relationship commercial premises of the high class are offered to tenants that are looking for premises in attractive locations and are willing to pay for it. Ruric offers primarily office and retail space.

The past year

2010 was characterized by the company reorganization including the new share issue and composition. The operations were hidden in the shade. It should, however, be highlighted that quite a few positive events occurred in Ruric's operations during 2010 and in the beginning of 2011. Not the least is the extension of the investment agreement regarding Moika / Glinky project worthwhile mentioning. The agreement with the project partner in Apraksin Dvor is working well, and a net cash flow of around 6-8 MSEK is to be expected during 2011. The fact that the project company has won several times in court against KUGI (St Petersburg's property authority) is assurance that Ruric and its partners are continuing to work together positively on all aspects of the business. The full settlement with Storm regarding final payment for Grifon House was also good news. During the year these disputes tied up a lot of management time which can now be spent on developing and growing the business.

The net gain in leasing has not been as expected. The eviction of Svarog (due to non payment of rent) and the fact that two other larger tenants moved to accommodate their growing requirements have given negative net effects. Approximately 1500 sqm have been leased out during the year, which is more than acceptable in the current market conditions. The beginning of 2011 has been promising with regards to the rest of the year.

Real estate stock

Ruric owns, disposes of or has interests in six properties in central St Petersburg at the close of the period, of which three are completed, and in the other three, planning and design and/or renovation/rebuilding is ongoing (mainly completed in one of these properties), and a land plot outside the city centre. During the period, the real estate stock*) has developed as shown below:

Acquisitions

No acquisitions have been carried out during the period.

Divestment

No divestments have been made during the interim period. During the fourth quarter Ruric reached an agreement with the buyer of Zao Grifon on final settlement, and received the agreed remaining payments.

Work continuing within own stock

During the interim period SEK 36.4 m was capitalized in the property portfolio. One part is a new fire escape on business centre Gustaf and the other part relates to non-deductible VAT on previous investments in Moika/Glinky and Apraksin Dvor, that is not deemed refundable. This amount is not a cash flow item in the current period. No interest has been capitalized during the interim period.

Changes in value

Investment properties

Valuations have been carried out by the Board based on external valuations as per 31 December 2010. The previous statement, that the uncertainty interval is large due the fact that the market that has been illiquid in such a long time, remain. All valuations, as before, are made under the assumption of going concern and continued operations. During the fourth quarter the value changes amounted to SEK 21.5 m (-64.6). For the full year value changes amounted to SEK 24.6 m (-154.5). The increase is attributable to new leases (Oscar) and to a general increase in expected price level.

The value of the investment property portfolio per 31 December 2010 amounts to SEK 217.4 m (204.8) which is equivalent to SEK 15,200 per lettable sqm.

Property	Lettable area	Operating income at full tenancy (6,8 SEK/USD)	External valuation 31 December 2010
R. Fontanki nab. 13 (Oscar)	2,976	8.1	67.3

Investment properties	14,382	26.9	217.5
Book value			217.4

Development portfolio

The development portfolio consists of the property with address Moika 96-98/ul. Glinky 2, and the jointly-owned properties at Apraksin Dvor (65%) and on Fontanka 57 (50%). Ruric also owns 25% of a land plot of 132 hectares southwest of the city centre. The Moika / Glinky asset and Apraksin Dvor asset, which are both regulated in investment agreements, are recorded as Project properties, whereas the Fontanka 57 and land-plot are recorded as financial assets - shares and participations.

As for the investment properties the Board of Directors has based the valuation of the project properties and the properties recorded as participations on external valuations as per 31 December 2010. In the valuation for Moika / Glinky it is assumed that the extension of the investment agreement is granted until 2014. As been communicated, this extension has been granted, but the amendment to the investment agreement has not yet been signed. The values derived in the valuations, give rise to a value change amounting to SEK 37.6 m (-744.2) in the income statement for the consolidated project properties for the full year, and to 23.3 m (-395.9) during the fourth quarter. The positive value changes are mainly explained by reduced uncertainty regarding the legal status of the investment agreements.

The properties recorded as shares and participations have also been valued by external chartered surveyors as per 31 December 2010. Supported by those valuations, those assets have been revaluated by net SEK -38.2 (38.5) m during the year. The reduction is mainly explained by uncertainty regarding Fontanka 57.

Apraksin Dvor:

During 2009 Ruric the partnership relation in Apraksin Dvor broke down. During late June and July 2010 the legal processes were being resolved, and during August, an agreement was made with the partners that all inter company court cases should be dropped, which has also been done. The long lasting dispute with Shukin Dvor has also been amicably resolved. As for the claim from KUGI to cancel the investment agreement, the arbitration court has twice ruled in Ruric's favour.

The above does not change the strategy to divest these two properties. However, Ruric and the partners are convinced that the value of the property is dramatically increased if legal ownership is first obtained. The project companies have claimed that the investment agreements are fulfilled and that legal ownership should be obtained. This process may be finished in the summer 2011 at the earliest.

The fact remains that there is only one potential buyer to the assets.

Fontanka 57:

The construction works with this astonishing building in the city centre of St Petersburg is on-going, with some delay. The scaffolding on the facade has been removed down to the ground floor revealing a new beautiful building. As a result of this several inquiries immediately was put forward to the project company regarding the future of the building.

Negotiations are still being conducted with the authorities with the view to re-negotiate rent level, rules for leasing out parts of property and on turning the financial lease into freehold.

The financial difficulty for the project partner, Scorpio, is still a problem. However, there are investors who are actively looking into the possibility to purchase Scorpio's share and enter into partnership with Ruric. The fact that the building now appears in its full beauty certainly increases the chances to conclude such a deal. As from 15 November Ruric is managing the project company and put in more efforts to speed up the procedures.

Moika/Glinky:

Ruric's project at Moika/ ul. Glinki is controlled through an investment agreement, which gives the right to develop and gradually own the property, but also consist of several obligations. Ruric has fulfilled all obligations possible at this stage, but the counter parties have not and thus caused a delay. This is why an extension of the investment agreement has been necessary. The minister of defence in Russia has now given order that an amendment to the investment agreement is to be signed, including an extension until December 2014. This amendment is not yet signed.

During the first quarter 2010 an important step in the investment agreement was accomplished when the properties in Petrodvorets were finally registered. This was formally an undertaking of the railway troops, but was accomplished with the help from Ruric. One positive effect of this is that the project company could apply for refund of construction VAT. This was filed in October, and has been approved in February. The amount, approximately SEK 28 m at today's exchange rate and is expected to be received in March 2011.

It should also be noted that the immediate area surrounding Moika/Glinky is undergoing redevelopment with the new Army/Navy museum nearing completion, Marinski 2 Theatre being well under construction (currently at 4th floor) and the sale of New Holland development to 'Millhouse' with a 400 MUSD development budget. These projects, along with Moika/Glinky will transform the entire area into the Cultural Centre of St.Petersburg.

Land-Plot in Strelina:

Ruric believes that this area, together with two other areas in the proximity of St Petersburg, with good road and rail communication, are specifically attractive and will most certainly gain in attractiveness once the supply in capital markets is better. No development is currently conducted on the land-plot, but Ruric and the majority owner has decided to parcel out 32 HA of the land plot with the view to switch the ownership from shares to land, thus giving Ruric 100% ownership of 32 Ha of land instead of 25% share holding in the company owning 132 HA.

Future prospects

During the second quarter, the company reorganisation was completed through share issues, a bond issue and a composition payment. After the share issues, Ruric has capacity to continue operations and to finance its part of the renovation of Fontanka 57. Ruric's financial position was improved dramatically. The equity ratio rose from 12 to 55 per cent.

The turn-around in the Russian economy has been steady, but not fast, at least not in the real estate sector. The Rouble has been stable to the US dollar, but has declined to SEK. The oil price, that is so important for the Russian economy, has risen in the world markets, and was stable at around 80 $/barrel during the year. The demand for office premises is slowly picking up, but increasing supply of new office buildings is holding back rental levels. The competition is high, but the city centre locations of Oscar, Magnus and Gustav will enhance their attractiveness.

At the end of the fourth quarter and in early 2011 we see sign of improvement though, at least in Ruric's portfolio. Both in Oscar and Gustaf rent levels have been raised almost to pre-crisis levels. For Ruric this means more than SEK 3 m more income on a yearly basis.

Ruric attended this year's ProEstate in Saint Petersburg. The fair was very well attended, and it is fair to say that the interest in real estate projects is back. Ruric's Moika/Glinky project was one of several interesting projects that were presented.

Since the long wished-for extension of the investment agreement regarding Moika /Glinky finally is being granted, the task of financing the project have been intensified. Several local and international investors are interested in the residential parts of the project, especially since the development of the new Army/Navy museum, the construction of Marinsky 2 theatre and the sale of New Holland for immediate development.

COMMENTS ON THE FINANCIAL DEVELOPMENT

Rental income

The rental income that includes the buildings at the 9-aya V.O. Linia 34 (Magnus), Fontanka 13 (Oscar), and Sredny Prospekt 36/40 (Gustaf) amounted to SEK 31.0 m (34.8) during the year. For the fourth quarter the rental income amounted to SEK 7.1 m (6.6). The decline for the year is attributable to lower average rents and to vacancies.

The income from Apraksin Dvor amounted to SEK 4.7 m (3.8). All other properties do not have any lettable space as of yet.

Other income consists of services provided to external companies.

The demand for premises has slowly increased, and the current tenants seem to have managed to ride out the storm. The vacancies that increased up until the third quarter 2009, has since then slowly been reduced. During the year approximately 1,500 sq.m have been let, but since Ruric has evicted Svarog, a large tenant in Magnus who rented 1,300 sq.m, for unpaid rent, and due to other movements, the vacancy has actually increased. As per 31 December 26 (24) per cent of lettable space was vacant. As mentioned above there is a positive tendency in the beginning of the new year.

These expenses amounted to SEK -27.9 m (-34.9) during the year and to SEK -10.4 m (-14.5) for the fourth quarter. The amounts include cost write-down of entries in Apraksin Dvor amounting to approximately SEK 2 m.

Currency exchange rates have effected equity with SEK -44.8 m (-45.9), primarily due to the fact that the properties are valued in USD, while changes in exchange rates that impacted the income statement amounted to SEK -13.2 m (-15.7).

Liquid funds amounted to SEK 51.2 m (57.3) and interest-bearing liabilities amounted to SEK 510.6 m (831.5).

Interest-bearing liabilities

The bond has a coupon of 10 or 13 per cent, where Ruric may elect to pay 10 per cent in a cash coupon or elect to pay a 3 per cent cash coupon with a roll-up of 10 per cent, accumulated to the bond. The first coupon payment is payable first time on 16 November 2011.

Risk assessment

The risk factors that were presented in the annual report for 2009 are continuously assessed. After the completion of the company reorganization and the share issues, Ruric has enough funds to complete its share of the Fontanka 57 project, but in order to continue development of the Moika / Glinky project further financing is required.

Exchange rate effects

Ruric's assets are valued in US dollars. Thus, when the dollar appreciates, the equity in SEK rises. All rents are paid in Russian roubles. An application of refund of VAT in the amount of approximately SEK 28 m has been approved. The amount is expected to be paid out during March 2011.
